

March 30, 1976

PRESIDENT: Motion fails. Next. We're back on Final Reading. We're on Final Reading. We've relaxed it a bit, but would all Senators please return to your desks. Please return to your desks. Senator Koch, for what purpose do you ask recognition?

SENATOR KOCH: Mr. President, just to inform you and members of the body that I have a bill, LB 630, over there they can use for some other judges if they want. It relates to parole boards.

PRESIDENT: Would you talk to Senator Burbach about that, Senator. Thank you for advising us of that. LB 1007, commence reading.

CLERK: Read title to LB 1007.

PRESIDENT: All provisions of law relative to procedure having been complied with the question is, shall LB 1007 pass with the emergency clause attached. Record your vote. Have you voted? There are two Senators in the phone booth. Would you ask them to come to their chairs please. We're under....

(Machine turned off)

SENATOR GOODRICH: In order that a couple of the members here that were on the phone can vote, I have to place the House under Call.

PRESIDENT: It's under Call.

SENATOR GOODRICH: Well, alright. I'll just have to ask for a roll call vote then.

PRESIDENT: Well, certainly, it's open, they can vote.

SENATOR GOODRICH: If they can still vote, fine.

PRESIDENT: They can.

CLERK: Senator Rumery voting aye.

PRESIDENT: Senator Koch voting aye. Senator Kremer.

CLERK: Senator Kremer voting aye. Senator Frank Lewis voting aye. Senator Frank Lewis had voted aye.

PRESIDENT: Have you all voted? Report the vote.

CLERK: 32 ayes, Mr. President, 10 nays, 7 not voting.

PRESIDENT: Now that had the emergency clause?

CLERK: That's correct, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: Having failed to obtain the constitutional majority required.... Yes sir?
